If we win awards, as we have many times in the past, all well and good...and we'll accept them gracefully...but, above all, our principal objective is to create homes and offices in which people can function easily and be proud to own"

Korn Interior Design was selected by G & D Developers, developers of One Aventura Condo Office building, in the city of Aventura to design the interiors of their brand new office space in this building.

Korn Interior Design will be working as well with the new owners in the finishes and Interior Design of their offices.
